We would like to offer you our latest product, first fully customizable flash-based forum engine. We called it FlashForum engine™.

Fully customizable - all font-work is managed by one single style-sheet (css) file. Want to have your forum pink today - no problem!

Fully skinnable - all graphics (skins) can be easily changed in no time. All skins support the 9-slice scaling feature. Do you really like the animated gifs? Well, you won't ever like them, as our engine supports swf-animation and animated-gifs (avatars, icons, inline embedding).

Fully localizable - all forum messages, labels etc are contained in one single xml file. Localize in no time!

Extendable - FlashForum engine™ is extendable. You can add or even develop your own plugins for the forum (flash/flex applications, games, services).

Easy to manage - the easiest and most convenient management system. Moderation is like a game now!

Easy to use - discover the FlashForum engine's bookmarks panel to store your favorite posts, topics, mates links. Instant messaging system, the active users-search system and more.

Insanely fast - the engine itself is only 200kb and thanks to the specifics of the Flash™ platform your forum users will load the engine only once, next time the engine will be retrieved from the temporary files. Modem users will appreciate that.

Simple installation - we think that's the faster installation ever. No, really, it will take you about one minute to fully install the forum.

Low system requirements - all you need is a web server with php and mysql support, your forum users just need to have the Adobe Flash player installed on their system.

And much more... What to ensure?
